Character Counts Emphasis: Trustworthiness

A week from today, September 5th, there will be no school due to the Labor Day holiday. All school related daycares will be closed. Tuesday, September 6th, the teachers will be involved in Staff Development and children will not attend. The daycare at Centennial Elementary will be open.

Friday, September 9th will be a special day in our building. We will celebrate the 60's by allowing all students to dress down that day as if they were living in the 60's. We are doing this to honor Mrs. Lana's birthday on Saturday, September 10th. Yes, you guessed- our Mrs. Lana will be 60!! ☺

School pictures will be made this Thursday. Students wear regular school uniforms.

Use what you know

Reading new words

Your child probably can't read a word like "supercalifragilisticexpialidocious." But he can use words he already knows to read new words. Here's how:

- Start with your youngster's name. Troy, for example, might have an easier time learning "tr" words such as "train." You can use the "tr" consonant blend at the beginning of his name to teach him other blends as well, such as "cr," "pl," and "st."

- Point out patterns in sight words your child recognizes. Example: If your youngster knows "they," he can learn "then," "this," and "that." "Could," "would," and "should" are three common sight words that also share a pattern.

■ Break down syllables in a longer word, such as "yesterday." Cover the entire word with a small slip of paper. Then, slowly slide the paper to the right to show each syllable one at a time (yes-ter-day). This works especially well for words with several syllables, such as "supercalifragilisticexpialidocious"!♥

We have completed one month of school! ☺ How are we doing?? Circle one and return tomorrow please!

Thumbs up ☺
